ABSTRACT

This document discusses the transfer rates of students who entered Virginia's community colleges in the fall of 1995, using the methodology developed by the Center for the Study of Community Colleges. Numerous tables in the document include individual college rates with breakdowns by race/ethnicity and gender. College-specific transfer rates are provided for both the public-institution transfers and for all of Virginia's higher education institutions. Also listed are the four-year receiving colleges for each community college's transfers. Report highlights include: (1) 23,868 students entered a Virginia community college in the fall of 1995, of whom 2,641 earned 12 credits in four years and also enrolled at a four-year public institution; (2) nearly identical proportions of men and women (27.4% and 27.5%, respectively, earned the 12 credits and transferred to a Virginia public or private institution; and (3) transfer rates varied by race, from 19% for African Americans to 29% for whites. 2001 TRANSFER ASSEMBLY PROJECT

The Ford Foundation-funded Transfer Assembly has been providing national transfer rates for community colleges since 1990 and is now conducting the 2001 study for students who entered community colleges in fall 1995. Research staff has worked with State Council to obtain VCCS rates and has provided System-level information for this entering group to the Center for the Study of Community Colleges.

The Assembly's definition of transfer rate is: "all students entering the two-year college in a given year who have no prior college experience and who complete at least 12 college credit units within four years, divided into the number of that group who take one or more classes at a public, in-state university or college within four years." This definition, often termed the "Cohen measure", has been both praised and criticized for its simplicity. Generally, it avoids the problems due to a lack of information about student aspiration and intent and to errors associated with student classification by defining a more inclusive beginning group which is then subset based on a commitment to continued study. The rate has been adopted or supported by the Southern Regional Education Board (SREB), National Center for Education Statistics (NCES), and numerous state commissions and governing boards as a measure of the transfer function for community colleges.

Because the transfer results have been very consistent, ranging from 21.5 to 23.7 percent since 1990, the study is now conducted every other year.

Entering class of:	Entering students earning 12 credits in 4 years		Entering students earning 12 credits and transferring in 4 yrs.
	Nation	VCCS	Nation	VCCS
1984	50.5%		23.7%
1985	46.7%		23.6%
1986	46.7%		23.4%
1987	46.9%		22.6%
1988	45.5%		22.1%
1989	44.1%		21.5%
1990	47.1%		21.8%
1991	47.3%		22.1%
1993	50.7%		23.4%
1995	N/A	47.2%	N/A	23.4%

The VCCS rate approximates the national rate from the 1999 study, 1993 entering students. The 1999 Transfer Assembly results were based on nearly 350 community colleges. The Center has reported estimates as high as 25 to 26 percent for transfers to both public and private institutions. For the VCCS, the rate is 27.5 percent when private institutions are included.

The following tables include individual college rates with breakdowns by race/ethnicity and gender. College specific transfer rates are provided for both the Center's definition (public transfers only) and for all of Virginia's higher education institutions. Finally, the four-year receiving colleges for each community college's transfers are listed. Copies of the report are available at: http://www.so.cc.va.us/vccsasr/Research/index.html.
